The Naturalization Law.

We copy below an abstract of the opinion of the Court of Appeals, in the case of Morgan vs. Dudley, taken up from Fayette County, Ky.

We find it in the Kentucky Statesman, and transfer it to our columns, so that the officers of the election may have some legal guide for their conduct, above the mere party edict usually issued to the faithful just before an election. It has been the custom, heretofore, under the reign of Know-Nothingism in Louisville to require naturalized citizens to live in a precinct sixty days after taking the final oath, before they were allowed the privilege of franchise; notwithstanding they may have resided for years before in the same precinct.

This was one of the quirks of Sam; one of the last resorts of his party to deny to naturalized citizens the privilege of voting, which the law had finally given them. If this last objection could not lie—if the naturalized voter had long been a citizen, there remained but one way, and that was to deter him from the polls by threat and intimidation.

We hope, for the credit of our city, and for the cause of law and order itself, that we may hear nothing more of this party law exercised at the polls to subserve party purposes. Louisville must throw off the shackles that bind her—she must guarantee to her citizens their equal and exact rights, or she will not prosper.

A foul wrong inflicted upon a large portion of her people cannot be borne without a murmur, and will not be endured in silence. Her people must vote—it is important that they all vote, and vote in peace and harmony. The higher destiny awaiting her history is delayed by party rule. Let all the laws be properly administered—all the rights of the people respected—and whenever party triumphs, let it be done in peace.

NATIONALIZATION LAWS.

*Abstract of the opinion of the Court of Appeals, in the case of Morgan vs. Dudley—Appealed from the Fayette Co.
Court, for the forthcoming Volume of B. M. Morris's Reports.*

1. No judicial officer, however low his grade as such, is bound to give effect to any law which he desires it may be, if it is not imposed by improper motives. (4 Blod., 28.) And the State courts, or any other tribunal, may, with an unlawful intention, refuse to receive any law which they were influenced by bad motives, and decided contrary to their honest convictions as to what is right.

2. A sheriff, who is duty to is to the public welfare, and to the safety of the community, is bound to execute any law which he deems to be against the public welfare, and which he deems to be against the safety of the community.

3. A sheriff, who is duty to is to the public welfare, and to the safety of the community, is bound to execute
any law which he deems to be against the public welfare, and which he deems to be against the safety of the community.

4. The allegation in a petition against a sheriff who is bound to execute any law which he deems to be against the public welfare, and which he deems to be against the safety of the community, is bound to execute any law which he deems to be against the public welfare, and which he deems to be against the safety of the community.

5. The act of naturalization, as it is required to be performed by the law, is a criminal offense, and Spratt vs. Spratt, 4 Peters, 493; and Congress cannot authoritatively confer jurisdiction on State courts, or any other tribunal, to try a criminal case, which was a criminal case. (Harney vs. Sharp, 17 U.S. 446.)

The authorities on the subject of jurisdiction, conferred on State courts by Congress, seem to be, "that State courts depend upon the pleasure of Congress, in every case in which the public matter can be submitted to them, if they be not bound by the law which they make." (4 Blod., 28.) And the State courts, or any other tribunal, may, with an unlawful intention, refuse to receive any law which they were influenced by bad motives,
and decided contrary to their honest convictions as to what is right.

6. The fact that State courts have, for a long period of time, been in the habit of refusing to exercise jurisdiction in cases in which they were influenced by bad motives, does not, in itself, constitute an argument in favor of its exercise; especially as it is well known that the State courts, or any other tribunal, may, with an unlawful intention, refuse to receive any law which they were influenced by bad motives,
and decided contrary to their honest convictions as to what is right.

7. The Governor and lady were fortunate enough to come across a person whom they had never seen before, and who was in great need, to leave their comfortable homes and take up quarters in the open prairies, and this after a settlement of all difficulties had been adjusted, does seem strange.

The war may be an end, but there is yet some shadow of doubt. I have asked many of the Mormons of this city if they yet continue to remove their households and property to the West, and the large majority of them say they are poor and needy, to leave their comfortable homes and take up quarters in the open prairies, and this after a settlement of all difficulties had been adjusted, does seem strange.

The course of this people will doubtless seem strange, but it is a real fact that they are poor and needy, to leave their comfortable homes and take up quarters in the open prairies, and this after a settlement of all difficulties had been adjusted, does seem strange.

DAILY DEMOCRAT.

THURSDAY.....JULY 15, 1858.

LEADING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE.

Jeffersonville Railroad.

On and after Monday, July 12, 1858, trains on the Jeffersonville Railroad will leave Jeffersonville, opposite Louisville, at 6:30 a. m., 10:50 a. m., and 10 p. m., daily, Sundays excepted.

Close connections made by the 10:50 a. m., and 10 p. m. trains at Seymour, with trains on the Ohio and Mississippi R. R., for St. Louis, Mount City, Cairo, Jefferson City, Kansas, Quincy, and Keokuk.

The 6:30 a. m., and 10 p. m. trains run through to Indianapolis, and form close connections with trains on the Terre Haute, Lafayette, Peru, Bellfontaine, and Indiana Central Railroads, for all the principal cities in the East, West, and North.

The 10:50 a. m., and 10 p. m. trains connect at Seymour with trains on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad for Cincinnati.

Only one change of cars between Louisville and Cincinnati, St. Louis or Chicago.

Tickets sold to all points on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. Also, to all the principal places in the East, West, and North.

Further information cheerfully given at the office of the Jeffersonville Railroad Co., No. 537 south-east corner Main and Third streets, Louisville, Ky., or at the depot in Jeffersonville.

RALLY, DEMOCRATS.

The Democrats of the Fifth and Sixth Wards will meet at the Histrionic Hall, on Jefferson street, on Friday night, at 8 o'clock. Business of importance will be transacted, and speeches will be made by Col. Thos. H. Holt, and other distinguished gentlemen. Let there be a general turn out. Every Democrat in the two wards is expected. Come one, come all.

Bailed Out.—Ellen Flannery was bailed out of the work-house, yesterday.

If Don't forget the Barbecue, to day, at Dickerson's, on the Bardstown road, six miles from town.

We are pleased to learn that all the ladies who were poisoned on Monday, are out of danger and doing well.

We are indebted to Frank Madden for a copy of the Cincinnati Gazette, delivered at an early hour yesterday.

UNCEASING WEAPON.—Patrick Nary was arrested and presented to Judge Johnston for carrying a concealed weapon. He was discharged.

THE usual number of drunken men were arrested yesterday and taken to Castle Thomas to sober off and repeat their folly.

PEACE WARRANT.—W. Wisem, a sued out a peace warrant against John Morris and Thomas Stewart. The parties held a consultation, and agreed to dismiss the warrant.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.—Mary Griffith, a frail, but far from fair, creature, was yesterday presented to Judge Johnston on the above charge. Mary was held to bail, and we suspect it now ruzing.

MARY ANN Howard was presented to Judge Johnston, yesterday, for passing counterfeit money in his possession, and for carrying a concealed weapon. The prosecution failed in making out a case of felony, and "Mary Ann" was held to bail for her good behavior.

WELL-DONE.—We notice, in several parts of the city, that workmen are busy tearing up old sidewalks, and putting down new ones. This is a step in the right direction, and one which has long been needed.

Nearly A Row.—Yesterday afternoon a lot of Pittsburgers came together on the levee, and being "half sea overs," were soon high in words; there was every prospect for a serious fight, but they concluded to quit before they reached the striking point; nobody hurt.

Mr. Spencer requests us to say that he will positively close out the balance of the fine plated ware unsold on yesterday, in the store room, on Jefferson street, under Masonic Temple, this morning, at 10 o'clock. A rare chance for bargains is here presented.

"The negroes implicated in the poisoning case by the confession of the negro girl, were yesterday discharged, the proof being insufficient to warrant the detention of the parties. The owners of the negroes hold themselves ready to deliver them into custody again when called on. The girl who put the arsenic in the coffee, was not discharged.

CURATURE OF THE SPINE.—We believe Mad. Blanche, of this city, is the only physician in the West, who cures this painful ailment; and that she does cure, we have abundant proof to the number of cases which have come from her hands completely restored, and in a comparatively short time. In treating for other ills, she has been equally successful. Let the afflicted try her.

LOUISVILLE AND PORTLAND RAILROAD.—This road has grown to be one of the necessities of city life, without which communication between the city and Portland would be tedious and disagreeable. We notice as Conductors on the cars, Messrs. Clark and Kennedy, young gentlemen well qualified for the position. Mr. Clark was for a considerable time connected with our office, and we know him to be affable and courteous.

SACRED CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—We take pleasure in announcing to our musical friends that Professor Dunbar, with some talented assistance, will give a sacred concert, this evening, in Mozart Hall. Among the pieces to be sung is one composed by Prof. D., entitled "A Home beyond the Tide," and which is said to be very beautiful, and very affecting. Churches and Sabbath Schools especially should by all means attend, as the music given away will be well worth the price of admission. See advertisement, in regular columns, this morning.

HARRY CHAPMAN.—This well known comedian and his talented wife have been delighting the citizens of New Albany for several nights past, and drawing full houses to the entertainments given. It is with real pleasure we announce that these Louisville favorites, after several years' absence, will appear for one week, commencing next Monday night, at Mozart Hall. We understand they have with them a good company for light pieces, and we confidently anticipate full houses during the week they remain with us.

BALL GAME.—We understand that one or more of the Ball Clubs which have, of late, been organized in this city, and all of which have been pretty constant in practice, will play a match this afternoon on Fourth street, near Breckinridge. All interested in out-door sports are expected to attend, if they choose. The game will commence at 5½ o'clock.

The Louisville Base Ball Club played the following game day before yesterday, and it will be seen that the sides were very well matched:
